PRICE $1.50 A YEAR

COME AND SEE The Killmore Gopher Feeder

This is the only practical device on the market for Feeding Poisoned Grain to Gophers.

It is manufactured from galvanized iron, five inches high by three inches square, with adjustable flanges to prevent fowl getting the grain. A steel wire runs downward through the machine into the ground, automatically locking on the sliding top and preventing the feeder upsetting, and making it impossible for stock to get the grain.

Why waste your time throwing poisoned grain on the ground to be washed away or covered up, a system that has never proved satisfactory, while the "Killmore Gopher Feeder" will last for years and is to be had for the low price of $4.50 per dozen.

Banking Credit for Farmers

THE CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE
invites the Co-operation of its farmer customers in furthering its efforts to give them efficient service, particularly in the matter of credits for Grain Growing and Livestock

Grain Loans: It is this Bank's policy to carry its loans to grain growers so as to enable the latter to complete the fall work on their land, and market their grain gradually after the freeze-up.

Livestock Loans: We make liberal loans to farmers, large and small, to purchase both feeders and breeding stock, and we carry such loans so as to enable farmers to finish the stock properly for market.

Make your Banker your financial adviser and let him help you to shape your affairs, with a view to enabling you to obtain what credit you require from the Bank and to pay cash for your goods

If, after giving your Bank Manager a full and truthful statement of your affairs, you cannot obtain the credit which you need and to which you think you are entitled, don't worry a second against the Bank. Instead, lay the facts before the Directors of your local Grain Growers' Association, and get them to take the matter up with your Banker—not necessarily by way of complaint, but rather to clear up any possible misunderstanding.

Then if the Directors feel that your case merits more generous treatment than the local Manager is disposed to give it, let them pass on the matter to the Secretary of your Provincial Grain Growers' Association, with a view to his discussing the matter with the Bank's chief Western representative.

This is a form of co-operation we would cordially welcome.

EDITORIAL

Canadian Citizenship

A problem which has long confronted Canada, and which it has been the aim of all governments, Dominion and Provincial, for the past quarter of a century and more to solve, has been how to secure and retain population. Governments in the past have, unfortunately, devoted more attention and spent more money in endeavoring to secure population than they have to retaining that population when secured, and more particularly to retaining in Canada our own Canadian born.

With enormous unsettled tracts of land only awaiting settlement to be made productive and wealth-producing, the Dominion government adopted a free homestead policy, created most extensive immigration department, and spent millions in advertising and other propaganda to induce people in all countries to come to Canada. For years these efforts met with little success, and the recurring decennial censuses revealed the fact that Canada was not even retaining its own natural growth in population.

Naturally, but nevertheless unwise, governments at Ottawa and in some of the provinces, both Liberal and Conservative, in their efforts to secure immigrants neglected to exercise care in the matter of quality of new Canadian citizens and devoted their energies to obtaining quantity. This led to the granting of exceptional privileges to various sets and groups of people, and conferring upon them exemptions from the discharge of national duties which all British and Canadian born subjects were called upon to fulfill. Exemption from military service was granted; special privileges in regard to language, education, and peculiar religious beliefs and other national customs were freely given, and the right to live in isolated communities apart from other citizens was not only admitted, but even encouraged.

As a result of these policies, Canada has received thousands of people who claim, and have a legal and treaty right to claim, special rights and privileges which are denied to Canadian born citizens. Even before the Great War thoughtful Canadians, anxious about the future welfare of their country, were becoming seriously alarmed over the resultant situation, and it only took the Great War, with all it demanded of patriotism, sacrifice and service on the part of Canada and its people, to arouse the whole nation to the danger which threatened its future if these policies were persisted in and Canada be came the home of numerous and ever increasing groups of unassimilated races adhering strictly to the language, customs, passions and prejudices they brought with them from foreign lands.

It is no use merely lamenting over the mistakes of the past. At the time these policies were adopted and put into effect they were approved by parliament and a majority of the Canadian people. Nor is it right to blame these non-British born people. Canada invited them to come here, and of her own free will granted them special rights and privileges in the event of their coming. As a nation we must honorably live up to the agreements we then made and the pledges we gave.

But all such agreements and undertakings should be terminated forthwith, and should not apply to any future immigration to this country. From this time onward Canada's policy should be absolutely against granting special privileges on conferring special rights on any individual or class of individuals. "Special privileges to none" must be our watchword. All Canadian citizens should enjoy equal rights and equal privileges, and should be called upon to assume equal responsibilities; there should be no exceptions. Furthermore, all residents of Canada should, while they are residents of this country, be Canadians pure and simple and nothing else without special privileges, exemptions or favors of any kind.

Every resident of Canada, whether he be Canadian or British born, or of alien birth, should be expected and required to render full and loyal service to Canada at all times, in the emergency of war as well as during the happy times of peace. At the same time all present alien residents to be loyal and sympathetic to Canada, and law-abiding citizens should be treated as Canadians. Because of their nationality they should not be treated harshly or unjustly. And the loyal, sympathetic law-abiding among these people constitute, without question, the vast majority of their number. But those who are disloyal, whether aliens or British and Canadian born, should be deported or forced to be law-abiding.

Any immigrant to Canada who is unwilling on entry to take an oath that he subscribes without reservation to all the obligations of Canadian citizenship as they may be determined from time to time by the proper authorities, and that he asks for no special consideration by reason of his language, his religious faith or his national customs, or who entertains any belief or renders allegiance to any foreign potentate or organization or is bound in any manner whatsoever to disregard the law of Canada, should be denied admission to Canada.

Canada still needs and must have population. We need quantity, it is true, but above all we must have quality, and if we cannot have quality with quantity then quantity must be sacrificed. Canada can better afford to wait than make the mistake of filling up her unsettled areas with people who are not willing to become real, out-and-out Canadians. Canadian citizenship must be a prize to attain and value; not something to be given away at bargain counter rates in order to secure immigration. The mistakes of the past must never be repeated.

RHEUMATISM CAN BE CURED

The Trouble is Rooted in the Blood and Can Only Be Cured Through the Blood

In the days of our grandfathers rheumatism was thought to be the unavoidable penalty that must be paid by old and almost every elderly person had rheumatism, as well as many young people. I don't know if you did not understand the trouble—did not know that it was rooted in the blood. It was the effect of exposure to cold and damp, and it was treated with liniment as a temporary relief, but did not cure the trouble. In those days there were thousands of rheumatic cripples. Now medical science understands that rheumatism is a blood and that it is with good, rich, red blood any man or woman of any age can defy the trouble. Rheumatism can be cured by killing the poison in the blood which causes it. For this purpose the blood must be blood-enriching qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is becoming every year more widely known, and it is the more general use of these pills that has robbed rheumatism of its terrors. In proof of this I am glad to say I was afflicted with this trouble. Miss Jennie Stockdale, Hall's Bridge, Ont., says: "Two winters ago I was taken with a bad attack of rheumatism, and was in bed for over two months, most of which time I could not sleep or enjoy any food or night. The trouble also affected my nerves, which were very bad. I tried several remedies but did not get any help from them, and then, seeing on the advice of a friend, I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I soon felt that the pills were helping me, and after taking eight boxes I am glad to say I was able to go about again as usual, and am now enjoying the best of health with plenty of good, rich blood. It makes me feel like an altogether different person. I earnestly advise those who suffer from rheumatism, nervousness and kindred troubles not to delay using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as like myself, you are sure they will find a cure through their use." You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any drug dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Settlers for North Country

Edmonton, Alta. — There is a very extensive movement of settlers and stock into the north country. During the past week's papers from Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario, Nebraska, Iowa and other points have passed through here on their way to the Peace River and Grande Prairie districts. In most cases they are taking considerable live stock with them, which would indicate that they are settlers that are familiar with the type of farming most successfully followed in those districts.

J. G. There are now nearly 3,000 boys and girls enrolled in the province and new clubs are being formed nearly every week. There will be four contests this year, pig raising, poultry raising, potato growing, gardening and canning. Only boys and girls of the ages of ten to fifteen are enrolled, this taking in a larger number of boys and girls who have left school.

BOTS AND WORMS

The above is a true photograph of a horse's stomach. No wonder our horses are poor and weak. BOTS ARE KILLING HORSES EVERY DAY by eating the inner membrane from the stomach, and in some cases they eat holes there. You can remove every bot and worm if you wish, with BOTS AND WORMS EXPELLER. It's in powder form, and you mix it with the feed. It's absolutely harmless. Horse owners write they have removed from 500 to 1,000 bots from one horse with BOTS AND WORMS EXPELLER. Now it is time to rid your horse of bots. The larger they get the more dangerous they are. They will not only eat the inner membrane and work back into the intestines, but will feed from the intestines to the latter part of July. At this time they will come from the body upon their new food, but thousands of horses will die from having their intestines perforated by the bots, as they gradually pass from the body. In this case it will mean death. Send for this remedy today. Don't delay. Price, postage and tax $2.00 per can. 5 for $5.00, 5 for $5.00. Your orders will be filled promptly.

Canada Food Board License No. 2-200

The Farmer and Repatriation

The Canadian farmer has a right to look with pride upon his contribution to the cause of democracy since the first year of the war.

From the farms of Canada, many thousands of the best fighting men were recruited. Whole battalions were made up of men from farm homes and small villages.

And those who were left played their part. They provided the Allies with food. They helped to keep things going at home. They learned how to "carry on" in spite of loss of help and a hundred other such difficulties.

But there remains to-day a task for the farmer equal in importance to any that he underlooked in war time—his share in restoring and realising the country in the transition of peace.

Canada faces the problem of placing in suitable employment the thousands of returned men whose record of service and endurance overseas has won for them a foremost place in the consideration of every man, woman and child at home.

Many of these men will return to their old places in the cities. Some will go back to their own or their father's farms. But there will remain a great number who will discover that the old order of things has changed for them—and who will think of turning for the first time to the land for employment.

The Government, through the Soldier Settlement Board, has laid plans to train as many soldiers as possible for agricultural life, and has also made provision to secure land for all who wish to possess farms of their own.

But there will be many who will prefer to learn farming by practical experience. The farmer who needs help can render valuable aid to these men and to the country by giving the returned soldier employment whenever possible.

There is this to be remembered—that patience and tact will sometimes be necessary. It may take time for some of them to get back into the old system of work, and to find their strength again.

Let one fact be kept in mind with regard to every returned man, whether he was a former employee or not—the fact that Canada owes him a tremendous debt, and that any deficiencies on his part during the first few months of his rehabilitation should not be allowed to disqualify him as they would under ordinary conditions.

The farmer plays one of the most important parts in the economic life of the community.

When you clear land, build fences, and increase production, you are actually helping to develop the country. When you build new barns, you are stimulating a demand for raw materials. In both ways you can help to keep the returned man busy.

There is another important question.

With the Government plan for soldier settlement in operation, there is every prospect that, within the next few years, many soldier settlers will be located on farms in every part of Canada. Trained advisors and skilled experts will help these men; but each must in the end work out his own salvation.

It is hoped that the farmers will be on the lookout to lend a helping hand to the soldier settler, to give him advice, and to aid him with his problems.

Every additional efficient farmer means greater strength to the life of the community. Every settler well established with his wife and family means another taxpayer to relieve local burdens, and another citizen to add his contribution to the social life of the district.

There is a place for the returned soldier, too, in the work of the farmers' organizations, which have of late years developed so much business enterprise. Co-operative societies sometimes find it difficult to secure efficient managers. There are a number of men in the Canadian army who, as quartermasters or quartermaster-sergeants, have acquired useful experience in business methods and in handling commodities.

At any rate, there is an opportunity for farmers' organizations to show an example of public spirit and enterprise in welcoming the soldiers and in aiding their return to civil life. A special committee should be formed in every Farmers' Club throughout the Dominion to carry on this work—to talk over the needs, the difficulties and the possibilities of the whole situation. This is the sort of patriotism that Canada needs now.

There is one other phase of assistance that might well be considered in the homes in rural districts. Many of the men who have fallen in battle have left behind them orphaned children. It would be infinitely better for such children to be brought up on the land than left in the cities. There must be many farmers in Canada whose families have grown up, or

Help the Y.M.C.A. Finish its Work For Soldiers

Help the "Y" Construct the Manhood that will Re-construct Canada

ALL the world now knows that the Red Triangle of the Y.M.C.A. was the "Sign of Friendship" to thousands of your brothers, sons, nephews, cousins and neighbours' boys in the last four and a half years. Wherever the Canadian Soldiers went, the "Good old Y" went too. And now it is coming back home with them!

For the support which has made possible the war work of the Y.M.C.A. we thank you. Your money has been well expended. We have rendered full account.

We ask now your continued sympathy and support for Red Triangle Service for our Soldiers during demobilization, and for Y.M.C.A. work for Canada generally during the Re-construction period. The Annual Red Triangle campaign will be held throughout Canada May 5th to 9th, 1919. The objective is $1,100,000.

The Y.M.C.A. will keep its chain of Service unbroken till the end.

For Our Men Returning

For the soldiers and their dependents, returning from Overseas, we have provided as follows:—

1. A Red Triangle man on board every ship when it leaves Great Britain, with a full equipment of games, gramophones and records, magic lantern, literature and writing materials. Where possible, also a piano or an organ. Lectures, concerts, sing songs, instruction in Government repatriation plans, and Sunday Services.

2. Red Triangle comforts and facilities for the men on arrival at Halifax, St. John, Quebec and Montreal, including coffee stalls, with free drinks, free canteens, cigarettes, candles, etc.

3. Red Triangle men on every troop train to provide regularly free drinks, eatables and cigarettes, organize games and sing songs, and furnish information.

4. Red Triangle free canteen service, information bureau, etc., at each of the 22 Dispersal centres in Canada.

5. Red Triangle Clubs in the principal cities of Canada in the shape of large Y.M.C.A. hostels to furnish bed and board at low rates and to be a rendezvous for soldiers.

6. Seventy-five Secretaries to superintend Red Triangle service in Military Hospitals, Camps and Barracks throughout Canada.

7. Tickets entitling soldiers to full Y.M.C.A. privileges for six months at any local Y.M.C.A. furnished.

In addition to our work for the returning soldiers, we have to maintain the Red Triangle service to the full for the soldiers in Siberia, as well as the work of special secretaries in Northern Russia, Palestine and Poland.

For Canada's Manhood

The Reconstruction program of the Y. M. C. A. includes the following vitally important developments:—

1. An increased service to 30,000 teen-age boys in the Dominion—the development of Canadian Standard Efficiency training; Bible Study groups; summer camps; conferences; service for High School boys; for working boys, in the towns and cities; for boys on the farm and for boys everywhere, who have lacked opportunity for mental, moral, physical or social development.

2. Inauguration of Y.M.C.A. work in the country and the smaller towns and villages lacking Association buildings and equipment, on a plan of county organizations. This will include the establishment of Red Triangle centres for social, recreational and educational work among boys and men, in co-operation with the churches.

3. The promotion of Y.M.C.A. work among Canada's army of workers in industrial plants, both in Y.M.C.A. buildings and in the factory buildings, organizing the social spirit among the industrial workers of our cities by meetings, entertainments, games and sports.

4. The establishment of the Red Triangle in isolated districts where lumbermen, miners and other workers hold the front trenches of industry.

5. Besides these main fields of increased activity for 1919, we have to provide for enlarged work among railway men, college students and for our campaign to encourage physical and sex education. Under all our work we place the fundamental education of many Christianity.

who have no children of their own, who would be glad of the companionship and affection of such little children.

Why not make a point of giving preference to those children who have been left as orphans of the country by the death of their Canadian soldier fathers?

Many other suggestions might be made. Their success would depend, as in the case of those already advanced, on the farmer's ideal of the future of Canada.

Canada counts on the farmer to help pay the debt we owe to the returned citizen.

Help him beat his bayonet into a ploughshare!

She hated Walters with a half instinctive hatred that reflection showed her was justified; but beyond the concession he had not told her, she would not be moved. On the surface, so to speak, he was logical and she was not. She was sure Walters had plotted to leave him on the coast, although she admitted that he had meant to save his life when he turned dizzy upon the trunk. It was possible that he had yielded to sudden generous emotion, but she did not accept the explanation. The fellow was cold-blooded and calculating; she thought he had deliberately let his opportunity pass, because, after this, nobody would believe him guilty. If he found another, she must not find an opportunity, and it was a keen relief to know that Foster would soon arrive. She had not told Lawrence yet; it might be better to let Foster make an excuse for his visit. When it began to grow dark, she stood near the glass front of the veranda and glanced at her watch. She could see for some distance down the valley and knew that the smoke of a locomotive would spread in a dark cloud across the tops of the pines. The train was late, but there was no smoke yet. It was a long climb from sea level at Vancouver Island and in winter the line was sometimes blocked. There was no obvious ground of alarm, but somehow she was worse afraid of Walters than before.

The massed pines gradually faded to a formless blur on the cold blue-grey slopes of snow. There was no sound from the valley but the roar of the river, and by and by a servant turned on the lamps. Lucy could now see outside and alighted as she looked at her watch. She hoped no accident had delayed the train.

In the meantime, Lawrence, who was sitting near the door, had picked up a book, but put it down when Walters came in, and Lucy felt a curious tremor or shudder as she glanced at him. It was a shrinking she sometimes experienced at the sight of a notorious man. Yet there was nothing about Walters to excite aversion. He was rather a handsome man, and stood in a careless pose, smiling at the group.

"The trouble about a pleasant time is that it comes to an end, and I'll have to pull out tomorrow," he said. When are you going to give me the photographs you promised, Lawrence?

"I'll get them now and you can choose which you like. They're in my room."

"I want one with Miss Stephen in it as well as yourself," Walters replied. "It will be something to remind me of our clime."

"Send the boy for the packet," Lucy interposed.

"I think the drawer's locked; anyhow, I don't want the boy to get things," Lawrence objected.

"Then I'll go with you," said Walters. "I'll save you taking the packet back and you can get ready for dinner while you are upstairs."

Lawrence got up. "Very well, we'll go now."

"Take the elevator, even if you have to wait," Lucy said as they went to the door.

Lawrence had chosen a room at the top of the building because the view was good and it got the sun early in the morning, but now and then walked up the stairs to see how fast he was recovering his strength. After a minute or two, Lucy heard the elevator start and his harsh rumble jarred her nerves. The electric lifts were in Canada seldom run silently, and the elevator had not been working well. Lucy was annoyed that the sound disturbed her, and imagined she had not recovered from the shock got during the walk, she was nevertheless admitted that she did not like Lawrence to be out of her sight when Walters was with him. She tried to persuade herself that this was foolish, but could not banish her uneasiness. Then Mrs. Stephen looked up.

"There's the train; I didn't hear it stop."

Lucy listened. She had forgotten the train for the last few minutes, and it seemed to be going fast. She heard the sharp snorting of the mountain engine and rhythmic clang of wheels. She tried to indicate that the door should not be interrupted. The Montreal express did not stop at the flag station unless the conductor was warned. She felt daunted as she realized that Foster might not have come, and she had not told her mother or she had telegraphed for him.

A few minutes later she heard steps outside; then the door opened, and she felt a thrill of satisfaction as Foster came in with Pete. He looked grave and rather hot, as if he had been walking fast, but it was strange to welcome to see him. Besides, she liked his big, companionable, who waited with Scottish calm.

Foster bowed to Mrs. Stephen and then turned to Lucy.

"Is Lawrence all right?"

"Yes, He overtook himself this morning, but is better now."

Foster looked relieved. "Is Walters here?"

"He goes tomorrow."

"Ah! said Foster, as if he thought this important. "I should have arrived yesterday. My message had come earlier. I got it just after the train started in the morning."

Mrs. Stephen looked at the laughter, but Lucy offered no explanation. Foster's abruptness disturbed her. He obviously wanted to understand the situation, but seemed to think he had no time to lose.

"I sent the telegram half an hour before the office closed and as the agent goes early you ought to have got it in the evening," she said.

"Then it must have been kept back," he said.

"Yes, the Lawrence now."

"He went to his room with Walters about ten minutes since."

Foster beckoned Pete. "Then I'll go straight up; I know the number."

They went out and Lucy sat down, feeling disturbed but somewhat comforted. It was plain that Foster shared her fears and knew more than she, but in another minute or two he would join his comrade, and Lawrence would be safe when he was there.

In the meantime Walters lighted a cigarette Lawrence gave him in his room and sat down to examine the photographs. There were a number of views of the mountains and a group of figures occupied the foreground of several. A guest at the hotel with some talent for photography had taken the pictures, and after a time Walters picked out two in which Lucy and Lawrence appeared.

"I'll take these, if I'm not robbing you," he said and waited until Lawrence put on a Tuxedo jacket, when he resumed: "Well, I suppose we had better go down. Are you coming?"

He went out and as Lawrence crossed the floor to turn off the light, called back: "I forgot the pictures; they're on the bureau. The elevator's coming up and I'll keep it when it's here."

Lawrence told him to do so. The lift had stopped between floors on their ascent, and the electric light inside it had gone out, while the boy said something about his not being able to run it much longer.

The photographs, however, were not on the bureau and Lawrence searched the room before he found them on the bed. Then he turned off the light and went into the passage, where the lamp was not burning, but he could see Walters beckoning at the gate.

"He wants to get down before the motor stops," the latter said.

Lawrence hurried along the passage, and when he reached the shaft Walters put his hand on the folding ironwork.

"Come along; his light's out," he said to Lawrence, and added, as if to somebody in the lift: "Start off, I'll shut the gate."

Lawrence stepped forward and then clutched the ironwork as his advanced foot went down into empty space. Instead of the floor of the lift, there was a dark gap beneath him, and he knew he had come very near to plunging down the shaft. He hung over it with one foot on the edge and his hand on an iron bar and looked at the black hole with horror as he braced himself for the effort to swing his body back. There was some strain upon his right arm, because his right knee was bent and his other leg dangled over the shaft. His hold on the ironwork had saved him and he must use it to regain the passage.

Next moment a hand fastened on his wrist and he thought Walters had come to his help, but the fellow was stupid; he ought to have seized his shoulder. Then the sweat ran down his face as he gripped the truth. Walters had not come to help; he meant to throw him down the shaft.

A Floating Electric Power Station

Used to Great Advantage During the War

One of the many British "frek" vessels produced during the war is the floating electric power station, officially known as C.D. 258. Although it was formerly a ship, it was under the control of the war office, not the admiralty, having been secured for the service of the Directorate of inland waterways. This vessel's function was to supply electric current when and where required for the miscellaneous operations of this department in connection with docks, harbors and canals—used for military transport. At a distance of some miles might pass for a gunboat without guns; technically it is described as a steel barge. Amidships is a complete electric power station of 1,000 horse power, designed so that practically any type of electric installation can be fed from this source. Two oil tanks, each with a capacity of 20 tons and an electrically driven workshop with lathe, drilling machine, and other repair plant, complete the main part of the equipment. What is "universal electric provider" is the direct outcome of war conditions, similar equipments are likely to be very useful in the construction of sea and river works. It is also of great worth considering for the permanent supply of electricity to riverside towns where owing to the nature of the sub-soil and other local conditions, an ordinary power station would be difficult to erect. In a district so convenient for water and fuel supply. In remote parts of the world a floating oil power electric station could probably be installed and run much more cheaply than a land station.

May Lift Financial Blockade

Neutral Money Markets Will Be Opened to Germany

Paris. — The financial blockade against Germany is expected to be lifted as a result of negotiations going on at Brussels. The blockade was applied at the same time as the commercial blockade, all neutral money centres being informed that any loans to Germany would result in the termination of their financial relations with the allies.

Neutral bankers furnishing funds to Germany were similarly blacklisted, and the result has been to virtually shut out Germany from the money markets of the world. By raising the blockade, neutral money markets will be opened to Germany as a means of obtaining loans for payments for food. The Scandinavian countries, particularly Denmark, are said to have such exceptionally good reasons that further importations of gold have been prohibited. These large resources will be opened to Germany by the lifting of the financial blockade.

B.C. Catch of Fish Sets Record
Prince Rupert, B.C. — The February fishing business represented the largest catch for that month of any year since the industry began to be developed at this port. Halibut to the amount of $24,800 pounds passed through Prince Rupert in February, establishing a new record.

Alberta's Dairy Output

Edmonton, Alta. — With a total of $27,900,000 worth of dairy products in 1918, Alberta leads the western provinces in this branch of farm production. This is an increase of about 30 per cent. over 1917.

Up to Feb. 28 the people of Port Arthur and Port Williams had purchased $102,277 worth of war saving stamps, or an average purchase of 33c per individual.

A Statement Worth Reading

Leaders of Medical Profession Give Opinion on Value of Alcohol

Writers in the press seem given to exaggerated statements concerning the increased death rate during the epidemic of Spanish influenza because whisky could not be obtained more easily and used more freely.

The following manifesto on the subject of drugs and alcohol in India was recently issued by a large number of medical men, including Surgeon-General G. J. H. Ewart, Alfred Pearce Gould (vice-chancellor of the University of London) C. W. Salceby, M.D., F.R.S., Frederick Treves (Surgeon-in-ordinary to the King) and G. Sims Woodhead, M.D., L.D., F.R.S., (Professor of Pathology in Cambridge University). It ought to have weight with reasonable and thoughtful people.

1. Alcohol, cocaine, opium and intoxicating drugs (such as bang, ganja and charas) are poisons.

2. Even a moderate use of them is harmful, especially in tropical countries like India. They are of no avail permanently to relieve physical and mental strain.

3. Those who confine themselves to non-alcoholic drinks, and who avoid the use of intoxicating drugs, are capable of more endurance, and better able to resist infection and disease.

4. Alcohol is in many cases injurious to the next generation, especially through its favoring influence upon venereal diseases.

5. Alcohol aggravates the evils of famine.

6. Alcohol is useless as a preventive of plagues.

7. Alcohol lowers the resisting power of the body against the parasites of malaria and the microbes of tuberculosis.

8. All that has been said applies with equal force to opium and intoxicating drugs.

9. We, therefore, appeal to the people of India to maintain and extend the practice of total abstinence as enjoined upon them by their religious and social obligations.

These men apparently know what they are talking about as they occupy the very highest places in the medical world today, and can scarcely be called fanatics.

What is true with regard to India is equally true with reference to this country—J. H. Hazelwood, Department of Social Service.

The Spring Rains Bring Grippe

This sort of weather brings colds and grippe. If it's just a common cold people say, "there's no danger in that!" But many a fatal sickness begins with a cold — with vitality weakened — the system is ready for the Influenza germs. Begin early to ward off the attack. Purge the system of the toxins (poisons) by taking castor oil, or a vegetable laxative made of Mayapple, leaves of aloe, and jalap, rolled into sugar-coated pills and to be had at all drug stores as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

If the cold starts with a cough, and it persists then some local treatment for this condition should be taken. A well known alternative extract which has been on the market for a great many years, and which has been highly recommended by thousands of users, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This tonic compound is composed of an extract of roots and herbs without alcohol, and has a soothing effect upon the mucous membrane, always the irritation and at the same time works in the proper and reasonable way, at the seat of the trouble — the stagnated or poisoned blood.

New Nurses' Home Proposed

Promoting Housing Scheme

Council of Winnipeg Architects Asks to Co-operate

Winnipeg, Man. — The council of the city is promoting in the interests of the country a housing scheme whereby returned soldiers and others may obtain the benefits of the offer of the Dominion government of which money will be loaned on small houses erected during the year. The city has asked the Manitoba association of architects to co-operate with them in this matter so that these cottages can be built along the most modern lines and improvements and the architects of the city are at present working out designs for these small houses, to be submitted to the housing committee of the city council, who are to be commended for their action in asking the Manitoba architects' association to co-operate with them on such an important matter. The Dominion government and the American government have followed along the same lines.

The bottom of the hollow was roughly level, but the cover with small, stunted trees, many of which had been uprooted and had fallen across each other in the open spaces, rocks and boulders rose out of an inch or two of snow. It was plain that there was no chance of Daly's alighting uninjured there. One of the men had brought a train hand's lantern, and they followed the curve of the trestle, which rose black and ominously high, against the moonlight. It was not very dark among the trees and the beam of the lantern flickered across the rocks and fallen trunks, but they found nothing, and presently came to the ice, where the light was not needed.

A dark colored object could be seen at some distance on the snow, but nothing broke the smooth white surface, and the party stopped at the edge of the water, which looked black and sullen as it rolled past, streaked by lines of foam. There was a belt of ice on the other side, but it was bare.

"Must have gone plumb into the river," said one. "We'd see him if he'd come down where it's frozen."

"Unless he was able to cross the bank," somebody suggested.

"I guess that's impossible," another replied, scraping the snow away with his boot. "See here, it's hardly two inches deep, nothing to soften the blow. Besides, anybody falling through the trestle would strike some of the cross braces or struts."

The man who had brought Foster touched his companion. "Nothing doing. We'll wait till the Green Rock and you can raise a posse of ranchers and look round tomorrow. I reckon you won't find any more."

They went back and when the train had started the man sat down opposite Foster in the smoking compartment.

"Well, probably, want your evidence," he said. "What's your address?"

Foster noted that he did not ask his name. "Perhaps the Hulton Manufacturing Company, Gardner's Crossing, would be best. I'm going there now."

The man nodded meaningly. "That will satisfy me. On the whole, it's lucky the fellow shot you. You and Hulton told us how you stood. He didn't miss by much; there's burnt powder sticking to your cheek."

Featherstone Apologizes

Three days afterwards, Foster entered the office of the Hulton Company, where they found the treasurer of the firm awaited him. It was late in the evening when he arrived, but the private office was filled with the softened throbs of machinery and rumble of heavy wheels. Outside it was very quiet and out of by long passage from the activity of the mill.

Hulton gave him his hand and indicated a chair. "You have got thinner since you took your holiday and look lined down," he said. "I reckon we all feel older since that night last fall."

"I do," said Foster, and added: "The mill seems to be running hard. She's going full blast. We've had plans for extension standing over until I could give my mind to them. I may be able to do so soon, and expect to come back in the spring. In the meantime, I got your telegram and another that to some extent put me wise. I want a full account, beginning when you left."

Foster told his story and when he stopped Hulton pondered for a minute or two. He somehow looked more human than on Foster's last visit; his stern, vindictiveness was not so obvious, but Foster thought he would demand full retribution. "Then he said:

"You are keeping something back; I reckon you haven't taken these chances on my account. There's something behind all this that concerns you—or your partner—alone. Well, I guess that's not my business."

He paused and resumed in a curt, unhesitating manner: "Daly's tale is plausible and may be true, but I have my doubts. Anyhow, I'm not going to believe it because it doesn't suit my plans. We'll have Walters tried for murder."

"Although you admit he may be innocent," exclaimed Foster. "It ought to be enough to charge him with trying to kill Featherstone and stealing your bonds. I've got no evidence to convict him of the other crime."

Hulton smiled. "I don't care two bits if he's convicted or not. I want to clear my boy's name and put you into the witness box."

"But you can't make me adapt my story to fit your charge, and the defending lawyer would object to Daly's account as hearsay and not evidence. The judge would rule it out."

"I guess so," Hulton agreed. "For all that, it would have some effect, and the judge couldn't call it one-sided if it was heard. He knitted his brows and looked hard at Foster. You going to put me in the witness box?"

"I don't think Walters will be convicted, he must take his chance. He was one of the gang that caused my son's death, and when he tried to kill your partner knew what he was up against."

Foster thought this was frontier justice and urged another objection. "After all, the matter's in the hands of the police. You can't dictate the way they ought to handle it."

"Fervidly, the treasurer, smiled, and Hulton answered with some dryness: "That's true, in a way. But I have some influence, which will be used for all its worth. Anyhow, I've got to be consistent in my own mind. But my agents, the police wouldn't have made much progress yet. However, we'll let us in a way let you try to know that Daly's gone for good. Read him the night letter, Fervid."

"It is used in a way to allow lengthy telegrams, called night letters, to be sent at a very moderate charge when the lines are disengaged after business hours, and the treasurer picked up a form. The message related the careful search for Daly's body, which had not been found. The snow for some distance on both sides of the river was so deep that there was no sign that an injured man had crawled away, and if this were not enough, no straws had been found of the scattered ranches, where he must have gone for food. Daly would not be found until the ice broke up."

"I expect you're glad the fellow can't be brought to trial," Hulton remarked, looking hard at Foster. "I am," said Foster quietly.

Hulton made a sign of understanding and there was faint amusement in his eyes.

"Well, you have a good partner, I like Featherstone; he's a live, straight man, and if he had trouble in England, has made good here. But he has his limits; I reckon you'll go further than he will."

"No," said Foster. "I don't think you're right, but if you are, I'll take my partner along with me, or stay behind with him."

"What are you going to do now?" Fervid asked.

"Stop at the Crossing and see about starting the mill."

Hulton nodded. "I guess that's the best thing. When you have got her started, come and see what we want. I think that's all in the meantime."

Foster left them and began work next day. He wrote to Lawrence, telling him of his plans, but got no answer for a week and a half a telegram arrived.

"Come out if you can leave the mill until you're wanted here," it ran.

Foster was puzzled, because he thought the summons would have come from Lucy if Lawrence were there. Yet the latter knew he was occupied and ought not have sent for him unless he was needed. It was to him who felt annoyed. Lawrence, who was sometimes careless, should have told him why he was summoned, and he could not conveniently leave the mill.

After Five Years Of Heart Trouble

Mrs. Brewer Turned to Dodd's Kidney Pills

Now She Is Telling Her Friends Who Advised Their Use the Good, Dodd's Kidney Pills Have Done.

Irish, April, 28th (Special).—An elderly lady, friend of the Dodd's Kidney Pills for heart trouble, from which she had suffered for five years, Mrs. M. Brewer, well-known and highly respected here, is telling how much she benefited from the treatment.

Heart trouble is nearly always caused by defective kidneys, which fail in their work of straining the impurities out of the blood. The work of the heart is made too hard when it has to propel blood and impurities to all parts of the body. The result is, of course, weakness and disease.

That Mrs. Brewer's trouble came from her kidneys is shown by her symptoms. "I suffered from cramps, flatulence, stiffness of the joints, backache and headache," she states. "My sleep was disturbed and I was nervous and my limbs ached. My skin itched and burned at night. I was unable to walk and failed to cure me I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. I must admit they did me a lot of good."

Shorthorns for Cross-Breeding

Shorthorn Blood a Decided Advantage in Winning Premier Honors

The value of the Shorthorn blood in crossing on other breeds is well known, and a large proportion of prize-winning steers in the selections for grades and crosses at our leading shows, carry Shorthorn blood in their veins.

Crossing the Hereford and Shorthorn has produced some of the most noted herds in the Panhandle country of Texas. See "Shorthorn Cattle," by Sanders).

Perhaps the most noted cross is that of the Shorthorn with the black polled cattle of Scotland, the result being the so-called "prince Scots," which have been favorites for a great many years for both farmers and butchers in Great Britain. This cross has a growthiness and readiness to fatten which pleases the cattle feeder and swells his bank account.

No other breed has proven equal to the Shorthorn for crossing with the Angus and Galloway.

Unfortunately for the Shorthorn, it does not stamp its color upon its progeny when crossed with other breeds, so that the Hereford, Aberdeen-Angus and Galloway impress their color. In this way the Shorthorn loses a great deal of the credit which is its due, when crosses are used in its exhibition.

For example, at the 1918 International Exhibition in Chicago, the grand champion carload were advertised as Hereford, because they had the Hereford color, but they carried a strong infusion of Shorthorn blood which was a decided advantage to them in winning premier honors. Also, the group of three steers winning first in the grade and crossbred specials, were black and hornless, but their sire was a Shorthorn bull, and they owed much of their excellence to this fact.

Though he is not a good advertiser from the standpoint of transmitting his color, the Shorthorn bull transmits the excellent qualities of the breed to a marked degree, and effects improvement wherever he is used.

Deethronement of Royalties
Berlin.—A German reporter figures out that the publications and deethronements in Germany include 278 persons. Bavaria leads with one king, one queen, fifteen princes, sixteen princesses, two dukes and one duchess. Prussia has sent 33 royalties into exile including the emperor, empress, twenty princes and 11 princesses.

France Aims at Sea Trade
Paris.—Whatever the amount of indemnities which France will receive from Germany, French financial and commercial leaders have begun to recognize that other sources will have to be drawn upon to restore the vitality of the nation. The French government, accordingly, has launched a gigantic scheme for the development of the French ports and preparations are under way for the improvement of waterways and the construction of a large merchant marine.

Spring Stock Sale

Good Prices for Fat Steers and Calves Realized

The sale of fat stock is now a fixed feature of the spring show at Edmonton, Alberta. Feeders can conserve their effort and care into cash and the packers are liking up to a tacit obligation to offer prices equal to the quality of the goods.

A university champion steer was the highest priced beef, bringing 32 1/2 a pound from the Swift Canadian Co. Other animals sold for 26 cents and 20 cents a pound, while none was sold for less than 17 1/2 cents a pound.

Sixteen calves were auctioned after the heavy beef realizing up to 21c a pound.

The commercial-hogs were sold at a flat rate of $35.50 a hundred pounds.

Extend Exhibition Buildings
Regina, Sask.—The city council has accepted the report of the commissioners concerning extensions to the buildings of the industrial and agricultural exhibition association. This means that a new winter fair building will be erected at a cost of about $120,000. The summer exhibition this year will be on a more ambitious scale than before.

LOOK AT A CHILD'S TONGUE WHEN CROSS, FEVERISH AND SICK

Take no chances! Move poisons from liver and bowels at once!

Mothers can rest easy, after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours the sluggish waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a weak playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed with liver, get sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, if tongue is coated then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it can't cause injury. No difference what else your little one is full of cold, or a sore throat, diphtheria, stomach-ache, bad breath, ringworm, a gentle "cleaning" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups! Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

After Influenza and Hard Winter Colds.
After an attack of the grip or pneumonia, or even a hard cold, the blood is left thin, watery, and one is said to be anemic. Instead of the blood cells being round, as in diagram "A," they become irregular, as in "B." When you feel weak, nervous, or the skin breaks out in pimples, eruptions or boils; and you feel "blue" and without any snap or energy, sometimes hands cold and clammy, there is usually a large decrease in the red or white blood corpuscles and one should build up with some good blood-builder and tonic.

You can put iron in your blood and the cells become round and red, losing the irregular shape, by taking a good iron tonic, called "Ironite," put up by Dr. Pierce and sold by most druggists. "Ironite" is compounded of a soluble iron, nux and herbal extracts. With this you gain in vim, vigor and vitality. Instead of pale cheeks, tired and worn out before the day is half done, after taking "Ironite," your cheeks will have color, you will feel strong and vigorous and ready for work.

Or if you like a good alternative and herbal tonic, such a one can be obtained at any drug store, favorably known for the past fifty years as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This is made from the wild roots and barks of forest trees and without the use of alcohol.

To Increase Elevator Capacity

Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company to Meet Rapidly Increasing Growth

The two and a half million bush capacity terminal elevator which was opened at Port Arthur at the head of the Great Lakes last year by the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company, is already proving inadequate to meet the rapidly increasing growth of the business of this farmers' organization.

To the plant as originally built a year ago the Saskatchewan farmers have already added a hospital elevator, for the treatment of off-grade grain, with a capacity of 650,000 bushels, the only public hospital elevator at the head of the lakes, into which the first load of grain was taken a few days ago. It is now proposed to meet the rapidly increasing demand made on the company's terminal facilities by construction work which will give to the terminal storage warehouse an added capacity of 2,000,000 bushels. Plans have been approved for this addition which will involve an expenditure of $500,000.

Ukrainians Aided by Old Bolshevik Army

Berlin. — A large part of the Bolshevik first army, which surrendered several days ago to the Ukrainians, have offered voluntarily to fight the Bolsheviks and already has been in action with the Ukrainians against the Bolsheviks at Ustka, in the Pripyet region.

This announcement "is made in a Ukrainian official statement received from Kovno."

A London despatch says that messages had been received there that the Bolshevik first army had surrendered to the Ukrainian army troops of Gen. Petlura, in the region of Homel. Twenty thousand rifles, thirty guns and two hundred machine guns were said to have been handed over to the Ukrainians.

London. — Large quantities of material were abandoned by the Bolsheviks when they were driven out of Bolshevik Oserki recently, according to the report of Major General Sir Ronald Ironside, British commander-in-chief of the Archangel front, regarding the operation. "His report continues:

"We captured two field guns, one thousand rounds of three-inch ammunition and some prisoners. The spirit of the troops taking part was excellent and they have done very well."

Regarding the situation, General Ironside says:

"Deserters from the Bolshevik forces have joined our own and the Russian troops. They openly show their hatred for the Bolsheviks and bear witness to the hard conditions of service. This has done more than anything else to consolidate the new Russian army."

General Ironside, in his report, mentions especially a battalion of Royal Scots with the north Russian force, as having had the hardest time of any troops in the Archangel sector, with the heaviest casualties, but displaying high morale throughout and never showing a sign of being dispirited.

Workmen Start Revolution

Petrograd Organization Demanding Private Ownership of Property

Washington. — Revolt of workmen in Petrograd was reported in advice to the state department from "the Russian frontier." The workmen's organization in that city, the advice said, adopted resolutions demanding the re-establishment of the constituent assembly, the freedom of the press and the right of private ownership of property.

That this action is regarded by the soviet government as a serious defection from its ranks is indicated by the fact that the Bolsheviks have found it necessary, in order to repress disorders among the workmen, to recall the Volga international battalions.

Amend Defense of India Rules

Simala, India. — The governor-general has promulgated a fresh ordinance providing that any court martial or commission may sentence a person convicted under martial law to transportation for life or ten years or rigorous imprisonment for seven years and not exceeding fourteen years. The defense of India rules have also been amended providing that no newspaper can be printed or published without previous sanction by the local government.

State to Train Returned Men

Sydney, N.S.W. — The state of New South Wales will bear the cost of training returned soldiers for the government railway workshops. The step will be taken in order to replace men who are leaving the shops through natural causes, and also, to meet contemplated extensions of the railway.

Mission Involved in Riots

Tokyo. — Special dispatches from Korea state that members of the Christian mission at Telogwan, near Seoul, clashed with gendarmes during a riot there, the officers firing upon a mob, killing twenty and wounding many of those engaged in the demonstration.

British Pacifists' View

Says Terms Submitted to Germany Would Not End War

Huddersfield, Eng. — Philip Snowden, former Liberal and pacifist member of parliament, in an address at the annual conference of the Independent Labor party, said that the peace terms to be submitted to Germany were not peace terms, and would not end the war. "The new war," he continued, "will be a war of systems and classes, in which the democracies of all nations will be ranged on one side against the hereditary oppressors and exploiters. We are not a party of violence. An intelligent and unselfish democracy need not in a country like ours, resort to methods of violence to attain its aims. If revolution has to be achieved in Great Britain by violence, it will come in that way because of the resistance of the old order: to the new birth."

Riots at Hamburg

Affected the Unloading of Food Relief Ships for a Time

Berlin. — There have been serious disturbances at Hamburg during the week end. A mob plundered the harbor quarter and clashed with the police, several people being killed and wounded. A dispatch to the Vorwarts says there was a regular battle in the suburbs of St. Paul, west of the city.

A policeman was killed and several others were wounded, but the rioters suffered worse than the officers.

The rioting was renewed, arms being distributed to mobs in St. Paul. Several police depots were attacked by the mobs and one was captured.

London. — The rioting at Hamburg affected the unloading of food relief ships for a time, according to official reports received here, but the work was proceeding with voluntary strike breakers, composed mostly of merchants and men of the professional classes, who realize the vital needs of getting the food unloaded. Until the present outbreak the navy had been able to control the German laborers, although they had been unwilling to work.

Gave Up Task

Paris. — The council of four decided to discontinue its hearings on the Chinese and Japanese claims to rights in Shantung province, and agreed merely to terminate Germany's rights in China in the peace treaty, leaving the settlement of the respective rights of China and Japan to the German concessions until a later date.

This agreement is subject to the approval of China and Japan, whose delegations have sent cablegrams to their governments and express the belief that their governments will agree.

May Propose New Plan

London. — A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Amsterdam asserts that the German peace delegates have been instructed to propose at Versailles a plan for a league of nations to replace the plan adopted by the peace conference in Paris.

The dispatch adds that the German plan was drafted mainly by Count Bernstorff, former ambassador to the United States, M. Erzberger, Prof. Schuecking and Karl Kautsky, one of the socialist leaders.

Want Annexation Cancelled

Paris. — The Walloons of Prussia have sent a dispatch to M. Clemenceau, chairman of the peace conference, requesting that their annexation to Prussia be cancelled. The message to M. Clemenceau follows:

"The Walloons of Prussia, feeling great anxiety on account of the news lately published in the press, earnestly request you to decide for the pure and simple dismemberment of all the Walloon districts in Prussia. The inhabitants of canons near Wallon but indispensable to Belgium, might be consulted by means of a referendum, as will be the case with the population of the Saar basin."

Rumanians Advance

Acting Solely Under Orders of the Allies

London. — According to authoritative information, Reuters learns the Rumanian advance into Hungary is progressing excellently. Rumania is acting solely under the orders of the allies and purely with the object of stemming the Bolshevik advance.

No permanent occupation of territory is contemplated with sanction of the peace conference. While the danger of Bolshevik attack on Rumania is not entirely removed, it is believed that the position is much improved. The situation in Rumania grows brighter daily. The spirit of the army is magnificent and the continued arrivals of food, equipment and stores is having great effect.

Berlin. — The soviet government in Hungary has asked for a suspension of the Rumanian offensive and the arrangement of an armistice, according to Vienna reports received here. One of these reports quotes the Neue Wiener Journal to this effect. The dispatch adds that the government of Bela Kun has announced its readiness to retire in favor of a socialist cabinet.

Tyrolean Want Independence

Complain That Italy Wants to Swallow Up Their Country

Paris. — Tyrolean claims to recognition as an independent nationality are set forth by the delegates of the Tyrolean national council in Switzerland, Walter Lutzel and Dr. Otto Guggenberger, in a lengthy memorial. The hardy mountaineers of the Tyrolean Alps complain that Italy wants to "swallow up their country, which was part of the former Austrian empire and furnished the former Emperor Charles' army with one of its regiments, the Tyrolean sharpshooters."

Japan Is Resentful

Tokyo. — In editorial comment on the clause to secure a place in the government of the league of nations, the Japan Times declare the national disappointment of Japan verges upon disaffection and affords opportunity for sensationalists to stir up anti-white prejudice. Representative Japanese regard the Paris decision as a snub and humiliation, the newspaper says. It continues:

"The refusal of the august congress of white peoples to accept the principle of equality of non-whites will probably erect a perpetual barrier to the harmonious comingling of the races toward which it was believed the world was tending. It can only tend to accentuate racial prejudices."

Australia Faces Coal Shortage

London. — Owing to the quarantine due to the epidemic of influenza, a serious coal shortage has been feared in Australia. There are only three weeks' supply of fuel on hand and many industries are threatened with having to close down.

An ultimatum was sent by Acting Premier Watt to the states of Queensland, West Australia and Tasmania, ordering the authorities to repeal their quarantine restrictions or the premier would transfer the tonnage employed on their coasts to more remunerative trade routes.

Bremen in State of Siege

Berlin. — The situation in Bremen has become serious. "Advises received here state that a state of siege has been proclaimed by the senate and that the publication of all newspapers, pamphlets and placards has been prohibited. Private persons are not allowed to use the telephones or the telegraph, letters are being censored and the restaurants, theatres, moving pictures houses and schools have been ordered closed."

Gift of Airplanes

Melbourne. — The federal government of Australia is about to establish immediately a regular air force. It is estimated that the initial cost will be $2,400,000, and the annual outlay for pay, maintenance and general cost will be about a similar amount.

It is stated in connection with the above announcement that the imperial government is making a free gift of one hundred of the latest design aeroplanes and balloons to the commonwealth.

Italy Must Forego Claim to Fiume

London. — With reference to the Italian claims the Associated Press learns that under the treaty of London, Italy was entitled to Trieste, Pola and part of Dalmatia, but Fiume was to go to Croatia.

Great Britain has advised Italy in her own interests to forego some of her claims, but if the Italians insist on their rights under the treaty, Great Britain and France are prepared to honor their signatures, in which case, as pointed out to Italy, Fiume must go to Croatia.

It is understood that President Wilson issued his statement on his sole responsibility, and that Premier Lloyd George and Premier Clemenceau are still actively seeking to bring about an agreement.

It was learned at Italian headquarters here this evening that the Italian delegates were first apprised of President Wilson's statement when it appeared in the afternoon papers. Premier Orlando at once sent a note to Premiers Lloyd George and Clemenceau asking them if they thought it possible after the publication of this document the Italians could remain in the peace conference. A reply had not been received up to a late hour.

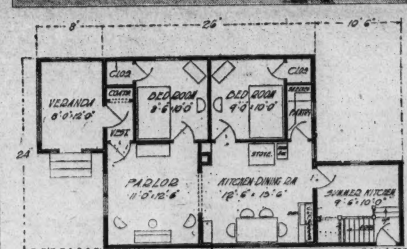

In the statement issued by President Wilson explaining his position on the Adriatic question he declares that Fiume cannot become a part of Italy.

The president points out that every condition concerning the Adriatic settlement has been changed since Italy entered the war on the promises of the pact of London, the Austro-Hungarian empire having disappeared. He notes that new states have been created for which Fiume is the natural outlet to the sea.

The president also contends that the strategic necessity pleaded in behalf of Italy's claim to the Dalmatian Islands no longer prevails, as the Austrian naval menace has ceased to exist.

In issuing his official statement on the Adriatic question, President Wilson let it be known that he desired once again to call attention to the fact that there was certain well defined principles which have been accepted by the peoples of the world as the basis for a lasting peace. The United States delegation simply recalled this in order that there should be no deviation from these principles.

A Moderate Priced Bungalow

GROUND FLOOR PLAN.

This is an especially attractive, moderate-priced bungalow, easily heated, where the kitchen, dining room and parlor can be used, when desired, as one room. There is good cupboard space, also sink and large draining having stairway to the cellar, a place of interest. It will be noted that the chimney is in the centre of the house. Many people believe that a cleaner chimney and better draught are thus afforded.

At the annual meeting of the Davidson, the managing Director announced that the Director had decided to place Davidson on a producing basis of magazine.

An up-to-the minute mill is to be installed on the property with a capacity of 150 tons, and judging from the estimate of one already backed out and the new one being recently recovered on the 500 foot level—the mine should become one of the foremost producers in the Porcupine Camp!

Davidson is one of the very few substantial issues on the board today selling below par. Davidson offers a lucrative opportunity for a speculative return and is very interesting in an out-and-out investment of the first order.

Foch Ready to Act if Germany Refuses to Sign

Paris. — Military experts, under the direction of Marshal Foch, have been charged with the drafting of a report on what should be done in the event that Germany refuses to sign the treaty of peace. It is indicated that the methods of coercion may include the occupation of more German territory, the blockade of enemy ports and the discontinuance of the dispatch of goods to Germany.

Berlin. — In a strikingly sober article written by Edward Bernstein, the Vorwaerts warns the German nation of the dangers attendant upon a refusal to sign the terms of peace, and declares the world will not absolve former Emperor William and his advisers from responsibility for all the misery of the war.

The article points out the enormous damage done to French territory, and says: "Everyone acquainted with the facts knows that the allied demand for the delivery of coal for a specified period is based upon economic necessities, although a legitimate objection can be made to the demand for pledging the output of the entire Saar district. In an case, we may not see the Saar district for Germany by threats."

Refuses to Fight

Three Bolshevik Divisions in Siberia Withdrawn From Front

London. — Telegrams from Omsk report that the troops of Admiral Kolchak, 33 miles south of Sterlet Anale, inflicted severe losses on the enemy, capturing many prisoners, machine guns and ten heavy guns. They also captured Staropol with great booty and a number of Bolshevik leaders.

Demoralization of the Bolsheviks is reported to be growing. Three Bolshevik divisions refused to fight and have been withdrawn from the front. The peasants of the Viatska government and some of the districts on the River Kama have revolted against the Bolshevik government.

Farmers Optimistic Over Prospects

Saskatoon. — Farmers in the district west of Biggar to the Alberta border are most optimistic over the present conditions. They declare that the prospects have never appeared brighter at this time of the year. Seeding has started in many places, but in some the water is preventing operations. Between Biggar and Saskatoon the situation is also said to be excellent, although considerably more rain is needed. Seeding has been in progress for some days.

Munition Workers Returning

Ottawa. — Word received by the labor department indicates that Canadian munition workers who were employed in England for periods during the war are now returning rapidly to Canada. During March it is understood that at least 1,500 of them returned. It is estimated at the department that about 1,500 more and their dependents remained in England at the end of last month but the majority of these will be in Canada before the end of April.

Missionary Convicted

Pyeongyang, Korea. — The Rev. E. M. Mowry, of Mansfield, Ohio, a Presbyterian missionary, was found guilty of having permitted Koreans to use his premises here for disseminating propaganda for Korean independence. The court sentenced him to six months' imprisonment at hard labor.

The decision was appealed from by the missionary and he was admitted to bail in the sum of $300 yen.

Aerial Service in Australia

Melbourne. — An aerial service between the larger cities of Australia is contemplated by July of the present year. The work is to be undertaken by an Australian company, which has asked for permission to be registered. The company claims to be backed by leading financiers, and purposes to make an immediate survey of flight routes and secure sites for airfields.

Trotsky's Red Army

Fitted Described as Consisting of Organized Guerrilla Bands

London. — The Montreal Standard has obtained the following information from a military correspondent in Paris:

The latest news from Russia shows that the Red army, despite Trotsky's efforts as chairman of the army council, is most fitly described as consisting of well organized guerrilla bands.

The infantry suffer from lack of rifles, munitions, and clothing, and in the cavalry great number of horses die from lack of fodder.

There are practically no heavy guns, and the field artillery are deteriorating owing to careless use. No new guns can be obtained.

The figure given by Trotsky of 1,000,000 as the strength of the Red army is not an over-estimate, and his statement that by this spring he will have mobilized 3,000,000 men is very probable.

But there is no reason to fear that he will be able to put a 3,000,000 army into the field—it lacks everything needful to arm it.

Desertion is very rife. One Soviet regiment left its barracks for the Finnish front 1,200 strong. At the railway station it numbered 700; on reaching the front there were 500 men.

Will Aid Veterans

Australian Forces and Dependents Receive Assistance From Government

Melbourne. — Under the provisions of the war service act which is now in force, members of the Australian land and sea forces and their dependents will receive assistance to a maximum of $3,500 from the government toward obtaining their own homes.

The act provides that soldiers, sailors and nurses who served abroad, widows and unmarried dependents of soldiers and sailors, and the mothers of soldiers and sailors whose husbands have been incapacitated, may acquire dwellings and land from the state on a rent purchase system at cost, plus five per cent. The payments may be made weekly or monthly, and can extend over a period of from 20 to 37 years.

British Squadrons

Visited France

French Newspapers Paid Warm Tribute to British Navy

London. — At the invitation of the French government two British squadrons visited France. An elaborate program for a week's entertainment was arranged in Paris for the officers and crews, which were commanded by Admiral Beatty. The officers made a tour of the battlefields including Rheims.

The visit was made the occasion of leading articles in the French newspapers which paid warm tribute to the British navy.

On arrival at Cherbourg, a British squadron comprising four battleships, one cruiser and eight destroyers, commanded by Vice-Admiral Everson, was given a splendid welcome. The town was profusely decorated.

The second squadron, composed of six cruisers and eight destroyers, commanded by Admiral Tyrwhitt, arrived at Brest. Enormous crowds welcomed the naval party.

Smiths Claim Honors

Washington. — The Smiths claim family honors in the world war. Fifty-one thousand of them saw duty in the several branches of military service. The Johnstons 29,000, the Browns 22,500, the Jones 23,000, and the Greens, Browns and Cohens came next in order.

"And we didn't even miss 'em at the old homestead," said Robert Lee Smith of Richmond, Va., who made the analysis of the family records in the war.

"We could have spared a few times that many and we could have kept on sending them across had the big dot's kept up."

Y.M.C.A. Notes

"If I Were Twenty-One Again"

"If I were twenty-one again, instead of being in my fiftieth year, how should I plan out my life?" asks Arthur Yopp, national secretary of the British Y.M.C.A.

"Had I my life to live over again, probably I should make the same mistakes that I have made; but I should certainly try to avoid some of them."

"I should do everything I possibly could to improve my education, to broaden my reading. Knowledge is power. I should be as keen on athletics and as keen a student of Nature, and should probably follow the same hobbies. Also, I'd do everything possible to get a sound business training."

"As a matter of fact, before I was twenty-one I had a fine business training with a large firm in my home town in Herfordshire, and it has always stood me in good stead. Long before I was twenty-one I had my first experience and my first training in Christian work. When still in my teens I ran what we called a 'Temperance Booth' for the benefit of the show people who invaded the town for the annual May fair."

"It was when I was twenty-one that I first joined the Y.M.C.A., and this is how it happened: I had been ill up with other work and had refused the constant request that I should join the local association. For years it had a chequered existence and then the crisis came. A meeting of the members was called to wind up the Y.M.C.A. because it was simply overwhelmed with debt. Most of the members could not afford to help pay off the debt. A friend of mine asked me if I could drop some of my other work and go to the aid of the Y.M.C.A."

"That was how I first came in touch with the association that has since given me my life work."

"If I were twenty-one again—I say it deliberately and without cant or humbug—I would again entrust my life with all its limitations and all its possibilities to one of whom it has been said:

"Closer is he than breathing. Nearer than hands or feet."

"If I were twenty-one again today, I should have been in the army. Although we mourn the loss of those bright young lives that have been offered up as the supreme sacrifice, yet we realize at the same time that many a young fellow of twenty-one has done more for his country in the few months he conserved to the fight for right than many of us have been able to achieve in a decade, or in a lifetime."

"If a young fellow of twenty-one who has organizing ability, personality and the gift of leadership desires to invest his life to the best advantage he might inquire as to the possibilities of the Y.M.C.A. secretary as a life work."

Soviet Abolished

London. — The short lived Soviet government at Munich has collapsed says a Munich despatch to the Daily Mail. The garrison, which was to form the nucleus of the Red army, rejected the self-appointed dictators, who had been trying to run the republic, and the Hoffman government has resumed judicial control of the capital by proclaiming martial law. The correspondent sent the following proclamation which was posted in Munich:

"To the laboring population, workmen and soldiers:

"The entire garrison of Munich, in association with those of their civilian comrades who are anxious to preserve the welfare of all, declare the central Soviet abolished. The workmen's and soldiers' councils will meet to decide their attitude toward the old Socialist government."

Australia's Air Scheme

London. — A telegram from Melbourne states that the Australian government has completed an aviation defence scheme and proposes to establish various aviation schools with squadrons of airplanes and seaplanes and with a staff of 5,000. The personnel of the scheme will number 1,400. The initial expenditure will be half a million pounds sterling and the annual expenditure about the same amount.

Won't Allow Plebiscite On Signing of Peace

Bolsheviki Use Chinese

In Carrying Out Their Maltreatment

Marseilles. — The steamer Conihair has arrived here from Odessa with 450 French civilian refugees on board.

Several of the repatriated men said that when they left Odessa, terror reigned. In the carrying out of their maltreatment of the people, they declared, the Bolsheviks had resorted to the use of Chinamen, the most savage of these people being used. It was asserted that a man named Savitski, an engineer at Kronstadt, was slashed with knives all over his body and then compelled to sit on a pan of hot coals. He was burned to death in the presence of his wife, who later died from shock.

Other Chinamen, the repatriated men said, dug holes in which landowners were buried. Other handworkers were drowned, stones having been tied about their necks before they were thrown into the water. Any peasant suspected of anti-Bolshevik tendencies was shot down in the streets by the Chinese, it was declared.

Feeding Russia

French Press Showing Hostile Attitude Toward Revictualing Plan

Paris. — Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, head of the commission to feed Russia, is having a rough time of it in getting in touch with Nikolai Lenin, the Russian Bolshevik premier, concerning the revictualing of Russia, on condition that the Bolsheviks cease hostilities.

The welfare service of the entente countries is apparently not available and a messenger will be sent to Norway to communicate Dr. Nansen's messages to Moscow. Consequently Lenin's reply will probably not be available for several days.

The French press is showing a hostile attitude toward the revictualing plan. One paper describes it as "Another Prinkipos," and several charge that it is an attempt by the United States to ingratiate themselves to obtain concessions, and scold the suggestion of humane, rather than political motives.

European Market

For Poultry

Demand for Poultry Products Will Be on the Increase

A French poultry expert, according to advices received by the Canadian trade commission, states that there is an active demand in Europe for 3,000,000 breeding hens at present. It is estimated that egg and poultry production there in the last four years has decreased 50%. Over 6,000 hens have been given by British traders to help the restoration work in northern France.

Conditions in Poland are said to be such that hundreds of thousands of fowls are wanted, and British experts are advocating that the newer breeds be at once introduced into the devastated areas.

The trade commission suggests to poultry men and farmers a continuance of the greater production campaign of last year. The cheapening of feedstuffs is in their favor.

Canadian exports of eggs in 1918 rounded off 4,000,000 dozen, one-half the quantity exported sixteen years ago. Great Britain alone before the war imported 190,000,000 dozen annually.

One broad idea which the trade commission is trying to impress on the agricultural and manufacturing interest is that the present emergency demand in Europe should be regarded as the stepping stone to permanent trade. The field in the poultry trade will be ample for some years to come.

Germans Added to Savings

Washington. — Germans were thrifty during their last year of war, adding more than $300,000,000 to their savings accounts in 1918, according to a report from the Federal Reserve Board. The 48 leading savings banks of the empire on January 1, 1918, totalled $911,064,000, and on December 31 they totalled $1,229,032,000, the advices stated.

Paris. — Discussion of the peace terms by the Versailles congress after the Germans are called in will not be continued longer than May 15, the Eclio de Paris declares. The Germans will be required to sign the peace conditions subject only to ratification by their government, the allies not consenting that these conditions shall be submitted to a plebiscite, it adds.

Satisfaction is expressed by the Paris press at speedy subsidence of the hurry over the question of what German delegates should come to Versailles. The deduction is drawn that the only thing to bring about the failure of such dilatory manoeuvres by the Germans is to speak clearly and fairly to the people.

It is pointed out that the only benefit, if there be any, which Germany has secured is to delay the opening of the negotiations for a few days. The solution is attributed by the press of all parties to the energetic attitude of the entente which is accounted a good omen for the success of the Versailles negotiations.

Fear Turkish Menace

Armenian Delegation Considers Making Appeal for Assistance

Paris. — Fear of further Turkish aggression has caused the Armenian delegation now in Paris to consider making an appeal for assistance in organizing an Armenian army to drive the Turks from the newly formed republic. Their requests for the occupation of Armenia by allied troops has brought from the peace conference, according to Avedis Ahronian, president of the Armenian delegation, only promises of consideration.

A report just received by him from the Armenian foreign minister declares that the Turkish menace is increasing daily and that unless radical measures are adopted there can be no other result than domination of the country by the Turks. Grave apprehensions are felt that this would be accompanied by massacre.

M. Ahronian declares that the Turks have failed to carry out the terms of the armistice, which promise for withdrawal of their forces. He adds that the few British detachments scattered along the eastern line of Caucasian Armenia have not served as a force for the removal of the Turks or even for deterring them. He adds that the British regard as a carefully laid plan for the annihilation of the Armenian people.

Young Turks Cause Disorder

Are Responsible for Organized Murder of Christians

Boston. — Charges that the Young Turks are responsible for the disorders in Egypt, as well as for organized murder of Christians in Turkey, are contained in a statement made by Miran Sevasly, chairman of the Armenian National Union. Mr. Sevasly said:

"The report published from London on the gravity of the Turkish situation is confirmed by reliable reports that have reached the offices of the Armenian National Union. Unless America and the allied powers take drastic immediate steps, the world may witness a fresh catastrophe which will engulf all that remains of the historic Armenian and Greek populations of Armenia and Asia Minor."

Rob Hospitals of Food

Berlin. — Terrorism still reigns in Munich and the Bavarian capital is on the verge of bankruptcy, the Lokal Anzeiger says. There is wholesale misery in Munich and almost all the workers are idle. What food is arriving here is taken by the communists. Some of the food is given to women and children, but the public kitchens and the hospitals are robbed of their allowances of food.

Crop Prospects Excellent

Winnipeg. — Reports from scattered points in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, where seeding has started, indicate that prospects for a good crop this year are excellent. A few districts report a shortage of labor.

PIMPLES ON FACE CUTICURA HEALS

Caused Disfigurement. Itchy and Burning. Had Restless Nights.

"My face came out in little pimples that were sore, and I scratched them constantly, and then they turned into scales, causing much disfigurement. The skin was so itchy that I irritated it by scratching. The burning was fierce, and I had many restless nights."

"This trouble lasted about a year before I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and after using three cakes of Soap and two boxes of Ointment, I was healed." (Signed) W. Wynne, St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 22, 1918.

Regina, Sask. — Moose Jaw is moving to secure a new source and system for its water supply. Laugh When People Step On Your Feet

Try this yourself than pass it along to others. It works!

Ouch! ? ! ? ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called frezzone when applied to a tender, aching corn stops soreness at once, and soon the corn dries up and lifts right off without pain.

He says frezzone is an ether compound which dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding tissue or skin. A quarter of an ounce of frezzone will cost very little at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels.

Hungarian Soviet To Fight Rumania

Government Issued Appeals to Public to Arm Themselves

London. — Bela Kun, Hungarian foreign minister, accompanied by other members of the government, has left for the front, according to a Budapest despatch to the Exchange Telegraph company, to take command.

Budapest. — The news of a Rumanian advance has caused intense excitement. Following upon vehement speeches at meetings of the soldiers' and workmen's council the government issued a series of impassioned appeals to the public to arm themselves and complete the revolution, which is declared to be in great peril.

A proclamation to the munition workers says that every factory must now work only for the front, there must be no holidays and no rest so long as "international profiteers are strangling the proletariat revolution."

Catarrh and Dyspepsia

Undermined the System and the Nerve Gave Way—Hospital Treatment Failed—Read How Cure Was Effected

Preceville, Sask., April 29. — This letter will give you an idea of what must may expect from this combination treatment for Catarrh. While Dr. Chase's Catarrh Powder affords relief from the stomachic air passages, headaches and annoying symptoms of catarrh, the Nerve Food enriches the blood and builds up the system, so that the disease is entirely overcome. This is the ideal treatment for catarrh and its ravages on the human system.

Mr. Ed. L. Jones, Preceville, Sask., writes: "I suffered for some time with catarrh and dyspepsia and my nervous system became quite run down. My food disagreed with me, and I was constantly bothered with indigestion. I also suffered from frequent headaches. I tried several doctors, and was in the hospital for a time, but could get no relief from any treatment until I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Catarrh Powder. This combination treatment has done wonders for me. I never have a headache now, and am feeling fine. The Nerve Food has built up my system, and the Catarrh Powder, which I am still using, is helping my catarrh greatly. I intend to continue its use until completely cured."

"I may also state that I have found Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills splendid for weak or lame back. This is to certify that I am personally acquainted with Mr. Ed. Jones, and believe his statement regarding Dr. Chase's Medicines to be true and correct." — Mr. George Dwyne, J.P.

Allies May Supply Raw Materials to German Factories

The supreme economic council will meet to consider proposals to grant a limited supply of raw materials, notably cotton, to Germany, to enable the factories there to start work and to relieve the unemployment, which is said to be at the bottom of much of the disorder in Germany. Y.M.C.A. Good Work

One of the best reasons for supporting the Red Triangle fund throughout the country is that the Y.M.C.A. is organising an effort to extend its usefulness into the small towns and country districts. Everyone knows how much good the Y.M.C.A. did at the front; how it spent hundreds of thousands of dollars on athletic equipment, theatres, cinemas, shows, concert parties, books and magazines, and many other comforts for the fighting soldiers. The canteens of the Y.M.C.A. were operated at exactly the same scale of prices to the soldiers as the army canteens, but in addition to that the Y.M.C.A. gave back to the battalions in the corps area in France five per cent. of the gross sales in their canteens to be used in providing special comforts for the men.

In addition to the chaplain service, the Canadian Y.M.C.A. was the mainstay of the morale of the Canadian army. It did a work which no other organization could have accomplished, and scores of thousands of Canadian soldiers are to-day returning to their own country better men because the Y.M.C.A. was with them at the front.

And now the Y.M.C.A. finds that its work is actually increased with the closing of the war. During demobilization the Y.M.C.A. is even a more important factor than during the fighting. Every troopship coming back has its Y.M.C.A. representative with games, gramophone, lantern, books and magazines and writing paper, and everything else that a soldier can need. Every troop train crossing the continent is similarly supplied. In fact, the military expenses of the Y.M.C.A. in 1919 throughout Canada and on the troopships will be $1,000,000.

In addition to its military activities, the Y.M.C.A. is endeavouring to extend its system of entertainment and training throughout the country districts, particularly in connection with the work among the boys, and is undertaking a regular campaign with this end in view. Such an effort should have the generous support of the country.

The Red Triangle Campaign which will open on May 5th, calls upon Alberta for $165,500, but $170,000 will be spent in Alberta during the present year on national Y.M.C.A. effort. It is hoped that throughout all districts of the province a generous response will be made.

P. BURNS COMES OUT STRONGLY FOR WAR SAVINGS CAMPAIGN

Well known leader in western life stock industry recommends policy of thrift

P. Burns of Calgary, is one of the best known persons west of the Great Lakes and, indeed, throughout all Canada, for his many activities both in industrial and philanthropic circles have made him known far and wide. His advice on thrift is exceptionally valuable because he is a self-made man and one of the most successful business men in the Dominion. In a recent statement he says:—

"When we realize that the National Savings Campaign will add to our comforts, as well as increase our resources and add to our saving powers, we should all give this movement persistent and enthusiastic support.

"I know, every one knows, that the word 'thrift' to many persons is repellant. It suggests a dark, grey life into which the sun is not permitted to shine. Now I may reasonably claim that I have been thrifty all my life—I may even go so far as to say that thrift is a hobby of mine—and yet it has not caused me any unhappiness. It has not made the days dark for me. I do not believe in extravagance. I can see no excuse for it. I do know, on the other hand, that the man, woman or child who is rationally thrifty, gets good interest in the form of happiness. Let us all be thrifty, and that simply means being sensible, and Canada will prosper.

"There are, unfortunately, people who are forced by regrettable circumstances to be thrifty to that point where they suffer. In fact they really have no money to be thrifty with. Let those of us who are better situated be thrifty and we shall improve Canada's financial and industrial and agricultural conditions, so that suffering may be reduced to an absolute minimum. We can do it.

"To my mind no better means of encouraging thrift was ever offered than the National Saving Campaign. It enables everyone who can get by a few cents now and again to become a national benefactor. And in becoming a national benefactor that person helps himself or herself for the savings bring interest at 4½ per cent compounded. The National Savings Stamp at $4.00 is an incomparable investment, and the plan by which 50-cent Thrift Stamps lead up to investment in the $4.00 stamp, is excellent."
